FROM THE EDITOR

Preface to the 1st edition

To commemorate the eightieth year (1987) of the Calcutta Historical Society its Executive Council had long planned to bring out an uptodate and comprehensive index of its journal Bengal Past and Present as well as a Birthday Special issue containing select articles from its back numbers. The three parts of an index covering volumes I-VIII, IX-XVIII, and XIX-XXIX published earlier by the end of the 1930s had long been out of print; besides, thirtyfive more volumes still needed to be indexed when the third part came out, thanks to the efforts of Mr Abdul Ali, the Hony Secretary, and Mr Narendranath Ganguly, the Hony Assistant Editor Mr Percy Brown, the Curator of Victoria Memorial and Hony Editor of Bengal Past and Present, felt that the task could only be finished by raising "an Index Fund, the amount required being estimated at Rs 3000/- including the honorarium to the indexers, with the necessary printing charges etc " Mr Percy Brown hoped that "someone sufficiently interested in this work will come forward and assist the management by helping to provide this amount " (Preface to Index to Vols XIX-XXIX) His hope was in vain

The Bibliography (Special) Division of the National Library of Calcutta at last lent a hand by coming up with the much-needed index as part of its plan to bring out indexes to journals "prestigious and important from research point of view." The National Library allowed the Calcutta Historical Society to publish and sell the index on condition that it would retain the copyright on the material itself and also be entitled to fifty complimentary copies of the index. The offer was gratefully accepted by the Executive Council of the Calcutta Historical Society in June 1987

In its meetings held in December 1987 and January 1988 the Executive Council wanted its Secretariat to seek special grants from the Indian Council of Historical Research and the Indian Council of Social Science Research for publishing the index volume, but these two sources – not to speak of the Education Department of the Government of West Bengal – remained untapped.

The original coverage by the National Library was till 1982 , items appearing in the 1983, 1984 and 1985 issues of Bengal Past and Present were added subsequently. The 1986 and 1987 issues, which have been published since then, have not been taken into account A preface explaining the methodology adopted by the indexers will be of use Considerable pains have been taken by the Bibliography (Special) Division of the National Library in the preparation of this index volume. Even so there may be some inaccuracies, but we, who are thankful to the indexers for this labour of love, trust that these may be of no serious nature.

Preface to the 2nd edition

I have much pleasure in prefacing this updated edition of the Index to Bengal Past and Present The first edition, which was prepared by the Bibliography Division of the National Library, covered the years 1907 - 1985. The Index has now been revised and updated till the year 2007 to mark the centenary of the Calcutta Historical Society, thanks to the labour and scholarship of Dr Ananda Bhattacharyya, Asstt. Director, West Bengal State Archives, and the financial generosity of ICHR and the Higher Education Dept , Govt. of West Bengal.

NOTE ON METHODOLOGY

The Index for the period 1907-1985 has been compiled by the Bibliography (Special) Division of the National Library.

This indexing of Bengal Past and Present 1907-1985 was taken up as a part of the overall plan of the library to bring out indexes to articles in journals, prestigious and important from research point of view.

The present publication [i e. the first edition] includes

	No of entries
Author Index	1,252
Subject Index	1,157
Index to Illustrations	829
Index to Illustrators, etc.	106
Index to Book Reviews	276
Index to Book Reviewers	56
Total .	3,676

Since the annual volumes of Bengal Past and Present bear continuous paging, the name of the month has been excluded from the index entry. For convenience of consultation the names of the authors in the index to articles have been capitalised. It will not be out of place to mention here that more or less only broad subject headings have been taken. The compilers are aware that assigning of all possible minute subject headings would increase the utility of the Index, but then the size of the Index would have swollen to at least four times its present size

National Library, Calcutta
Bibliography (Spl) Division

The above methodology has been adhered to in preparing the revised and updated 2nd edition of the Index to Bengal Past and Present 1907 - 2007. The entries now number 4,027.
